annual dinner and Christmas tree to the newsboys given at the Newsboys' Home on Ewellth treet near P street. Being the social event of the year in newsboy circles, a surging crowd of 200, of whom the majority were genuine newsboys, and the rest for the time only, were present.

A number of amusing scenes were witnessed, and two or three were ignominiously bounced when they applied for admission. Inside the house several tables were seen surrounded by the boys after the signal had been given. They did not touch the delectable catables just yet though, but courteously and impatiently they waited while "Hold the Fort" was being sung and the speech of Superintendent Sweeny was delivered. After that the tables were mysteriously and suddenly relieved of their load. The dainties provided consisted of sandwiches, cales, coffee, nuts, apples, oranges, bananas, relieved of their load. The dainties provided consisted of sandwiches, cakes, coffee, muts, apples, oranges, bananas, pies and last but not least turkey, that constituent of a good meal.

Then came the rush for the Christmas tree. There were 150 bags of candy on the tree, 150 sticks of candy in addition, 100 pairs of mittens and 50 caps. The mittens were generally given to the colored boys and the caps to the whites. The supper and presents were provided by private subscription secured by the members of the Newsboys' and Children's Alil Society and by members of the Leadsa-Hand Society of All Souls' Church. The young ladies who prepared and served the supper are members of the Lead-a-Hand Society of All Souls' Church. The young ladies who prepared and served the supper are members of the Lead-a-Hand Society and are as follows: Miss Lennette Stebbirs, Misses Grace and Alice Noerr, the Misses Davis, Misses Helen and Ella Nichols, Miss Fessenden, Miss Margaret Cascell, Miss Bessie Edes, Miss Evelyn Pook, Miss Edith Kane and Miss Rena Cooper. The officers and members of the Newsboys' and Children's Aid Society present and participating in the work were. Mrs. Ogden Wyckoff, vice-president; Miss Minnie Curry, secretary; Mrs. Dr. Hood, Mrs. A. H. Thomas, Mrs. D. C. Forney, Mrs. Dr. Rish R. Shippen usator of All Souls' Church, and Mrs. Shippen were present. Dr. Shippen made a few remarks to the boys.

Major John T. Clinton—I am surprised that the authorities of Washington have allowed since and sluch to remain upon the main business streets so long as they have. People who are at all careful of their boaith will not venture out with the streets in the condition that they have been for reveral days. The crossings have detailed by the morthants are ill complaining of the links in the same since Monday, and the morthants are ill complaining of the link of trade and the pear chances that they have to dispose of the stocks of hells ay goesis that they have on frand.

Heris of snow have been piled up on both sides of the street-car tracks and Herdic line, even upon the crossings, and but little effort has been made to carry it sway. As a rule the District authorities have been very careful about having the snow cleared away from Pennsylvania avenue, but there has been but little progress made at it so far. Yesterday aftermoon at many of the Seventh street crossings there were small banks of snow that were very unafte and very unhealthy to attempt to cross.

Ned Price—I was in New York last week and saw Tim Murchy in "A Texas Steer" at the Hijou. The golden praises showered on him by press and public for his excellent portrayad of the Congressman from the Lone Star State does not seem to after Tim's skull dimensions. His hat number (evening size, of course) is the same as in the days of old in Washington, when Murchy and I were numbered among a choice lot of Bohemians that held delightful "small and earlies" in a certain French restaurant, where the "feast of reason and flow of soul" would have aroused feelings of envy in the heart of Tom Ochiltree and other box sicents. Isaac Reading, one of the colored men who on Christmas Day assaulted Officer Kemp in front of Driscoll's saloon, corner of Third and K streets, was committed to jall for six months by Judge Miller today. The officer was trying to arrest a colored man for disorderly conduct, when Reading came out of the saloon and attempted to rescue the prisoner. His attempted to rescue the prisoner. His attempted was crowd of people and some one struck Mr. Kemp in the back of the head with a stone. In order to disperse the crowd the officer used his revolver and shot John Harris, one of the men who was throwing stones, and broke his leg. This had the desired effect of breaking up the crowd. Judge Miller said he was determined to have these assaults upon officers stopped, and he made the sentence an unusually heavy one.

CHURCHMEN IN CONVENTION.

Papers Rend and Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year,
The American Society of Church Hisory commenced its third annual session at Foundry M. E. Church last night Delegates were present representing nearly every section of the country. Dr. Philip Schaff of New York was in the chair, and in his opening speech reviewed the en-couraging results from work of the society during the past year.

Rev. Professor H. W. Hurlbert of Mari etta College, Ohio, read the first paper of the evening on the "Historical Geography cita College, Ohio, read the first paper of the evening on the "Historical Geography of the Christian Church." Dr. H. S. Burridge of Parliand, Me., presented a paper, "The Anabaptists of the Sixteenth Century." A brief discussion followed, in which Dr. Newman of Toronto, Camada, and others took part.

President Henry McCracken of New York University then addressed the assemblage, discussing "The Piace of Church History in the College Course of Study." In 150 typical American colleges, exclusive of Catholic and State colleges, he found 30 per cent. of these teaching bible history and the bible, 18 per cent. taught church bistory proper in some form, and 50 per cent. of these colleges taught something of church history in connection with the study of evidences of Christianty. He then told them of the popular condition and progress of the study in Europe.

The meeting adjourned after hearing the report of Dr. Newman on a proposed series of denominational histories to be published by the society. A committee consisting of Dr. McCracken, Professor Wolf, and Dr. Newman was appointed to nominate the officers at to-night's session.

This morning the society reconvened at the Foundry Church at 10 o'clock with Dr. Schaff again in the chair. Discussion on the paper of Rev. Vice Chancellor Dr. H. M. McCracken on "The Place of Church History in the College Course of Study" having been prevented last night owing to lack of time, the paper was made the subject of informal talks by the members. Among those who took part in the discussion was Professor Moulton of Cambridge.

After the expression of opinions had anded Dr. Schoff made.

members. Among those who took part in the discussion was Professor Moulton of Cambridge.

After the expression of opinions had ended Dr. Schaff made a very interesting address, although rather brief, on the "Renaissance." Dr. Schaff, having spent some time in Rome quite recently studying the subject, his review of the work was especially interesting. He went over the literacy and artistic history of Italy and the other civilized coutries leading up to the renaissance, and expressed the worth and value of the works of the different authors of the time, including the fourteenth and different centuries.

Remarks by nearly all those present followed, all expressing their approval of Dr. Schaff's research and opinions. Rev. Professor Dr. J. W. Richard, of Gettysburg. Pa., then spoke on "The Vicissitudes of the Doctrine of the Lord's Supperin the English Church." being a dogmatic history of his subject. Another paper was read and discussed on "Villegoigner, Founder and Destroyer of the First Hugnenot Settlement in the New Work.

A report favoring a proposed series of denominational histories, to be published under the auspices of the American Society of Church History, was read by Rev. Professor Dr. A. H. Newman of Toronto, Canacla. This project was very well received, and it was determined to push the scheme forward with all possible diligence.

After the society had adjourned the scheme forward with all possible diligence.

After the society had adjourned the members accepted the invitation of Bishop Hurst to lunch at his house, No. 4 lowa Circle.

During their stay here the members took advantage of the invitation of the Cosmos Club extending the facilities of the club for their use.

These officers were elected for the year 1891: President, Rev. Professor Philip Schaff of New York; vice-presidents, Rev. Professor Henry Martyn Baird of New York, Rev. Bishop Dr. John Fletcher Hurst, Rev. Professor Dr. George Park Fisher, Dr. Richard S. Storrs, and councilors, Rev. Dr. Talbot W. Chambers, Henry C. Vedder and Rev. Dr. Henry M. McCracken.

Rather Expensive Fun. On Christmas Thomas Young drove off a delivery wagon belonging to John J. Hogan. The fun he thought he was hav-Hogan. The fun he thought he was hav-ing proved to be quite expensive, however. While driving at a rapid gait the horse collided with a tree at the corner of Eigh-teenth and L streets, and was severely in-jured. In the Police Court this moraing Young was charged with cruelty to ani-mals, and Judge Miller imposed a penalty of $25.

At noon a luncheon was served by the ladies of the church, after which the Women's Home Missionary Society held a session, with Mrs. Judge McDowell presiding. The society recently sent provisions and money to the people in Kansas, and letters were read thanking the society for the same.

This morning at II o'clock Mrs. Amanda Smith, the African missionary, spoke at Wesley Chapel to a large audience. Her remarks were in the interest of foreign missions, and throughout was an entertaining and instructive talk.

Wants His License Fee Returned. On the 4th of December Samuel G. Parker and Geo. W. Taylor formed a Parker and Geo, W. Taylor formed a partnership in the auctioneer and carriage repository business under the firm name of Taylor & Co. Mr. Parker took out an auctioneer's license paying the fee of $91 out of his pocket. Three weeks after the incorporation of the firm they failed, leaving the junior partner in the hole to the tune of $500. After the failure he wrote to the Commissioners requesting a return of the money paid for the auctioneer's license which, under the existing conditions, was useless. Parker said the return of the amount paid would be a great financial help to him.

The matter was referred to Attorney Hazelton who decided that there was no law under which Parker's request could be granted.

The only way out of the difficulty is to make a transfer of the license to some one willing to purchase it.
